WHAT IS A COMMERCIAL USE?

A Commercial Use is defined as any land use, except housing or institutional or government service, which is a permitted or discretionary use in a Commercial District. Commercial developments include, but are not limited to, hotels, retail shops, restaurants, bars, personal service shops, professional or consulting services, offices, transportation services, and commercial services.

WHAT ARE THE COMMERCIAL GROWTH MANAGEMENT ALLOCATION REGULATIONS?

The Banff Community Plan contemplates a total envelope of 3.89 million square feet of development on commercially zoned lands in Banff and an annual rate of commercial growth of 1.5 %. Each year, a Development Officer determines the amount of commercial use development allotment available for allocation. One third of the allotment is allocated to medium commercial developments between 46 m² and 465 m² and two thirds of the allotment are allocated to large commercial developments of 465 m² or greater. In the event that fewer commercial use development allotments are applied for than are available during any allocation period, all applications shall receive the allotment requested with the exception of those applications refused by the Development Officer. In the event that more commercial use development allotments are applied for than are available on an annual basis during any allocation period, a random selection draw shall be held to determine the order in which allotment requests are granted in that allocation period. The process of allocating commercial square footage will occur until the town reaches build-out. Small commercial use developments (less than 46 m²) may obtain a Development Permit without going through the random selection draw. Applications for commercial use development allotments must be received by October 15th of each calendar year.

HOW TO COMPLETE A COMMERCIAL USE DEVELOPMENT ALLOTMENT APPLICATION FORM?

Each Commercial Use Development Allotment application form contains a list of plans and materials that must accompany the application. In addition, prior to submitting the application, the proposal shall satisfy the regulations and objectives of the Town of Banff Land Use Bylaw, Banff Design Guidelines, and Banff Community Plan:

Banff Land Use Bylaw

The Town of Banff Land Use Bylaw identifies a number of different land use districts within the town boundaries. Each land use district has different development regulations for floor area, site coverage, landscaping, height, parking, and setbacks. Permitted and discretionary uses are prescribed for each district.

Banff Design Guidelines

The Banff Design Guidelines are a component of the Banff Land Use Bylaw and provide a framework for evaluating the aesthetic quality of development proposals. The intention of the guidelines is to ensure that the Town's built environment will reflect the spectacular natural environment while recognizing Banff's location in a National Park and a World Heritage site. Banff is characterized by the "Rocky Mountain Style" with common design themes including: sensitivity to nature, the use of rustic natural materials, emphasis on structural expression and strong roof forms, respect for the pedestrian environment, decorative details, and relief and texture.

Banff Community Plan

The role of the Banff Community Plan is to direct the future of Banff. It is a statement of the goals, objectives, and planning philosophy for the community's future. The Banff Community Plan is consistent with the Banff National Park Management Plan and Town of Banff Incorporation Agreement which identify the following five purposes:

- a) To maintain the townsite as part of a World Heritage Site;
- b) To serve, as its primary function, as a centre for visitors to the Park and to provide such visitors with accommodation and other goods and services;
- c) To provide the widest possible range of interpretive and orientation services to Park visitors;
- d) To maintain a community character which is consistent with and reflects the surrounding environment; and
- e) To provide a comfortable living community for those persons who need to reside in the townsite in order to achieve its primary function.

WHEN CAN A DEVELOPMENT PERMIT APPLICATION FOR A COMMERCIAL DEVELOPMENT BE SUBMITTED?

Before a Development Permit application can be submitted for a commercial development of 46 m² or greater, a commercial development allotment is required. Small commercial use developments (less than 46 m²) may obtain a Development Permit without going through the random selection draw. If the development does not involve the creation of new square footage, it is not necessary to apply for a commercial use development allotment.

HOW DOES THE DEVELOPMENT PERMIT APPROVAL PROCESS WORK?

Once the Town of Banff receives a Development Permit Application and it is deemed to be complete, it is reviewed for consistency with the Town of Banff Land Use Bylaw and Banff Design Guidelines, Banff Community Plan, and other relevant documents. The application is also circulated to other municipal departments, Parks Canada, and other agencies for comment. The duration of the review period is at least two weeks and can be longer, depending on the volume of work being handled by Town of Banff staff and external agencies and the complexity of the proposed development. Certain proposals may also require CEAA (Canadian Environmental Assessment Act) screening, which is administered by Parks Canada.

Once all comments have been received, the Development Officer may then consider the application if the proposed development is a permitted use. Permitted uses are allowed provided that they meet the requirements of the Land Use Bylaw, Banff Design Guidelines, and other relevant standards and regulations. If the proposed development is a discretionary use or is considered a large scale or complex project, the application is referred to the Municipal Planning Commission (MPC) for review. The MPC consists of eight voting members including two Councillors, five public representatives, one person nominated by the Federal Minister of Heritage, and either the Director of Environmental Services or the Director of Community Services (appointed by Council as a non-voting member). The MPC has the ability to refuse Development

Permit applications for discretionary uses even though they may meet the minimum standards of the Land Use Bylaw.

Once a decision is made and a Notice of Decision is issued, there is a statutory 14-day period during which the applicant or any affected person may appeal the decision of the Development Officer or MPC to the Development Appeal Board (DAB). As a quasi-judicial board, the DAB has the power to uphold, deny, or vary the decision of the Development Officer or MPC. The Notice of Decision may also be accompanied by a number of conditions, which are required to be satisfied prior to the issuance of a Development Permit. At the end of the 14-day appeal period and once all required conditions have been met, except those of a continuing nature, the Development Officer may issue a Development Permit. A development may commence once a Development Permit and a Building Permit, if required, have been issued.

WHEN IS A BUILDING PERMIT REQUIRED?

Like many Alberta municipalities, Banff operates on a two-permit system. A Development Permit deals with land use regulations (e.g. density, site coverage, setbacks, parking, height, design, etc.). A Building Permit deals with the Alberta Building Code (e.g. building structure, materials, insulation, etc.). In many cases, a Building Permit is required in addition to a Development Permit. Furthermore, a Building Permit may be required even though a Development Permit is not required. To determine whether or not your project requires a building permit, please contact the Town of Banff Safety Codes Officer.

WHAT IS THE FEE FOR PROCESSING A DEVELOPMENT PERMIT APPLICATION?

Application processing fees vary according to the size, type, and complexity of the development and are outlined in the Development Processing Fees Schedule. These fees help the Town to partially recover the costs of reviewing, approving, and advertising Development Permits. Building permits have associated fees and vary depending on the estimated value of the proposed development. New buildings, additions, or renovations that result in the creation of new floor area are charged off-site levies in accordance with the Off-site Levies Bylaw. Off-site levies are used to pay for all or part of the capital cost of new or expanded sewer and water facilities. Other fees may apply. Contact Town of Banff Planning and Development staff for more information.

The Banff Land Use Bylaw and other planning documents are available on the Town of Banff website (www.banff.ca) or at Town Hall.
